Course Description

This advanced undergraduate course provides a comprehensive introduction to East Asian Politics with a focus on Mainland China, Taiwan, Japan, and South Korea. The first section highlights East Asia as a region, introducing some common themes such as historical memory, cultures, and the process of state building. The second section focuses on the institutional arrangements, political development and leadership of individual states. The third section examines the economic development of the region and the roles of states in this process, while the fourth section compares the state-society relations in both democracies and authoritarian regimes, with specific focus on identity politics and nationalism. This course concludes with the discussions of current issues in the region. Upon completion of this course, students will be able to

- describe historical and cultural context of East Asia politics,
- understand different political systems within East Asia,
- understand the success and challenges of economies within East Asia,
- understand the variation of state-society relations within East Asia,
- apply concepts and theories to analyze East Asian politics, and
- think critically about the roles of history, culture, government and non-government actors in the society of East Asia.

Course Requirements

1. Student initiatives

Success in this class requires intensive reading and class participation. The assigned articles and chapters can be quite dense. You must complete and take notes on all assigned readings prior to the class. A rule of thumb is that you will need to spend about 2–3 times the time we meet in class to read and take notes every week.

2. Class participation (10 points)

Active participation in a civil manner is necessary to succeed in this course. Participation grade will be evaluated over the whole semester. Students are expected to engage actively in class by (i) raising questions about readings and lectures, (ii) answering questions raised by the instructor in class, (iii) participate in discussions and/or debates on the topics provided by the instructor, (iv) contributing to review sessions, and (v) presenting current news of East Asia on a regular basis. Unless otherwise instructed, students who want to contribute to class discussion must raise hand and wait to be recognized. Questions and comments must be

- related to class and/or the course material;
- respectful of diverse opinions and open to follow up questions and/or disagreement;
- aimed to advancing the discussion about issues related to the course and/or course material rather than personal beliefs;
- delivered in normal tones and a non-aggressive manner.

3. Random quizzes (10 points)

Throughout the course, the instructor will give seven in-class written exercises or quizzes. Written exercises ask students to express your opinion about a question relevant to our course. Quizzes are designed to provide a quick evaluation of how well students understand lectures and/or keep up with readings. A thoughtful response or a correct answer will earn the writer full credit (2 points), a messy, incomplete response will earn half credit (1 point), and no response will earn no credit. Students will earn a maximum of 10 points this way, accounting for 10% of their total grade. Note that the dates for these exercises and quizzes will NOT be announced in advance. While NO “make ups” are available for this portion of the course, the instructor will offer at least 7 opportunities to earn these 10 points. Students who have already earned 10 points will receive a point extra credit on the final exam for each additional assignment (maximum 2).

4. In-class essay preparation (5 points)

To help students succeed in essays, the instructor will hold three writing workshops throughout the semester. The first one, scheduled on October 1, will ask students to provide one or two research questions and potential answers (2 points). On October 15, there will be a second workshop where students narrow down to one topic/question and formulate their arguments (3 points). After that, students are expected to start working on their essays until the third workshop on October 29, when a short proposal is due. Find more instructions on Blackboard.

5. Short proposal (10 points)

To better prepare for the essay, you are required to submit a one-page short proposal on October 29 for peer review. The proposal should include a clear question, an argument followed with a brief plan of development (bullet points are fine), and a bibliography.

6. Essay (25 points)

You will write an essay, 10 double-spaced pages long. The essay will build on the short proposal and the feedback you receive throughout the semester. The deadline is November 19. A complete submission will include two steps: (i) submit a hard copy of your essay before class, and (ii) upload an electronic copy through Blackboard for plagiarism checking before midnight on November 19. A separate guideline of essays will be provided later.

7. Exams (20 points for each)

Both of the exams are non-cumulative, closed-book in-class format. The first exam covers the lectures and readings until October 3. The second exam covers the rest of materials. A study guide will be provided before each exam. There will be a review session before each exam.

8. “Writing intensive”

Please recognize that this course carries a “W” designation. The “W” stands for writing intensive. Writing intensive courses are those in which at least 51% of your final course grade is determined based on writing activities. In this course, writing activities will include: (i) your 10-page essay and assignments leading to the successful conclusion of your essay, and (ii) short essay answers in exams.

Please note that you will be able to use your essay as your capstone paper for the Political Science and International Studies major. Please retain a ‘clean’ copy of your paper to turn in for your capstone paper when you are about to graduate. Below are some on-campus resources to improve your writing:

- The Writing for College Success Program: <https://www.odu.edu/academicsskills>
- The Writing Center: <https://www.odu.edu/al/centers/writing-center>
- The Center for High Impact Practices: <https://www.odu.edu/chip>

Grading

The course grade consists of the following components:

- 10 points: Class participation
- 10 points: Random quizzes
- 5 points: In-class essay preparations
- 10 points: Short proposal due Oct 29 (before class)
- 25 points: Essay due Nov 19 (before class)
- 20 points: First in-class exam on Oct 10 (3–4:15pm)
- 20 points: Second in-class exam Dec 5 (3–4:15pm)

There are 100 possible points, which will correspond to the following letter grades:

93-100: A	90-92: A-	87-89: B+	83-86: B
80-82: B-	77-79: C+	73-76: C	70-72: C-
67-69: D+	63-66: D	60-62: D-	0-59: F

The instructor will round up scores of 0.5 and higher, and round down scores of less than 0.5.

Course Policies

- Classroom Conduct: Cell phones are to be silenced during class. Please be on time for class. It is inconsiderate and disruptive to arrive late to class or to leave class early. In circumstances where you need to leave early, tell the instructor beforehand. Repeated disruptions of class will lead to a reduction in your final grade.
- Missing Class: Although there is no attendance point per se, missing lectures will prevent you from performing well in the course, for (i) some of lecture materials are not covered in the readings and (ii) you are likely to miss in-class exercises and quizzes, which, again, the instructor does not offer “make-ups.”
- Missing Exams: In case of illness and personal emergency, the instructor will provide make-up exams only when provided with proper documentation. Exams missed due to a university-sponsored event or religious holiday may also be excused, but it is the responsibility of students to inform the instructor of the absence at least ten days in advance, with proper documents. Vacation and other social engagements (e.g. weddings) will NOT be excused.
- Late Submission: Due to the requirement of peer review, the late submission of your short proposal will NOT be accepted. Late essays will be penalized 5 points per day (on a 100-point scale, see the grading scale on the last page), including weekends and holidays.
- Grade Appeals: If you wish to challenge a grade you received on a specific question on an exam or an essay, you must submit a written note (email acceptable) explaining why you think you deserve more points within one week upon receiving the grades. Otherwise, the instructor will not accept grade appeals. Once the instructor receives your written note, she will regrade the entire exam/essay and your grades may increase, decrease or remain the same.
- Syllabus changes: The readings and course schedules are subject to change, but any changes will be announced in class, with an updated syllabus on Blackboard.

Required Readings

All the readings will be available on Blackboard. Students are expected to complete readings by the day for which they are assigned, and are encouraged to meet with the instructor or the TA during office hours to discuss the assigned readings and/or further interest in specific topics.

University Policies

Honor Code: The Old Dominion University Honor Code is in effect at all times in this class. Your name on an exam, paper, or homework assignment constitutes your acceptance of the Honor Code:

“I pledge to support the Honor System of Old Dominion University. I will refrain from any form of dishonesty or deception such as lying, cheating, and plagiarism, which are honor violations. I am further aware that as a member of the academic community it is my responsibility to turn all suspected violators of the Honor System. I will report to an Honor Council hearing as summoned.”

Sexual Harassment: Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcomed and unsolicited conduct of a sexual nature, physical or verbal, by a member of the university community of the opposite sex, or the same sex in an official university position. Sexual harassment in any situation is reprehensible. It is the policy of Old Dominion University to provide students and employees with an environment for learning and working which is free of sexual harassment whether by members of the same sex or the opposite sex, which is prohibited by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. (For more information: <http://www.odu.edu/content/dam/odu/col-dept/al/docs/6320.pdf>)

Students with Special Needs: Students are encouraged to self-disclose disabilities that have been verified by the Office of Educational Accessibility by providing Accommodation Letters to their instructors early in the semester in order to start receiving accommodations. The Office of Educational Accessibility is located at 1021 Student Success Center (<http://www.odu.edu/educationalaccessibility/>) and their phone number is (757)683-4655. Accommodations will not be made until the Accommodation Letters are provided to instructors each semester. All students are expected to fulfill all course requirements.

Plagiarism: “A student will have committed plagiarism if he or she reproduces someone else’s work without acknowledging its source; or if a source is cited which the student has not cited or used. Examples of plagiarism include: submitting a research paper obtained from a commercial research service, the Internet, or from another student as if it were original work; making simple changes to borrowed materials while leaving the organization, content, or phraseology intact; or copying material from a source, supplying proper documentation, but leaving out quotation marks. Plagiarism also occurs in a group project if one or more of the members of the group does none of the group’s work and participates in none of the group’s activities, but attempts to take credit for the work of the group.” Plagiarism will not be tolerated in this class. (For more information: <https://www.odu.edu/content/dam/odu/col-dept/al/docs/about-plagiarism2.pdf>)

Course Evaluations: Student opinion surveys are submitted on-line. You will be notified by email when you should evaluate this course. You will need your UIN and password. Please take the time to evaluate this course when asked to do so. All evaluations are anonymous. The link to the Course Evaluation System is available here: <http://www.odu.edu/coursesurvey>.

Email: Students are required to use valid Old Dominion University email accounts to send official information and notices and are held responsible for accessing electronic mail to obtain official University communications. Students should use their secure ODU email account to communicate with professors.

Final Grades: Instructors are not permitted to give out grades via telephone or email. In order to find out what grade you received in this course, you must go to LeoOnline at the university home page: www.leonline.odu.edu. You will need your UIN and password.
